

After you have started jack you have to press restart under control.

And then under Connect you will see a new device been added Fluidsynth, you have to manually connect left to playback 1 and right to playback 2